

New Version of ParksvilleMAP

The City's ParksvilleMAP has received a facelift. The new map can be accessed through our website under Online Services or in the QuickLinks. If you find your links are still pointing to the old map, reload the website and the new map will just be a few clicks away.

The old iVault version became obsolete and in need of replacement. We've tried to keep appearances between the old and new similar to help ease transition to the new map. To assist users with some of these new features, documentation with screen shots has been provided on the Disclaimer Page or click on the "?" widget at the top of the map. Users will find improved functionality throughout the map.

We will continue to run the old map until Friday, November 5; however, after this date, this version will no longer be available. Should you have questions or comments, please email gis@parksville.ca, or phone Randy Hall at 250 951-2485.

Link to new Parksville map: <https://maps.parksville.ca/>

For more information:

Deb Tardiff, Manager of Communications
dtardiff@parksville.ca; 250 954-3073