ARROWSMITH WATER SERVICE PUBLIC INFORMATION REPORT NOW ONLINE

At the Arrowsmith Water Service (AWS) Management Board meeting held on June 23, the Board approved the Public Information Report and directed the AWS Management Committee to make it available online. The report can now be viewed at www.arrowsmithwaterservice.ca under the heading Reports & Meeting Minutes.

As part of the approved communications strategy for the AWS, the public information report provides a general knowledge and understanding of the purpose of the AWS. This report will be particularly useful to readers who do not wish to review the detailed planning and engineering reports associated with the project. The report summarizes the history of the Arrowsmith Water Service, the current governance model, past studies, the purpose of bulk water and current studies and activities that support future water supply.

The Public Information Report will be updated as the AWS develops and will be used as a central repository of information.
