Parkville Fire Department Members Receive NFPA 1001 Certification

Parkville, BC - At the October 6, 2014, regular meeting of Council, eight members of the Parkville Volunteer Fire Department were presented with certificates for successful completion of the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) 1001 Standard for Firefighter Professional Qualifications Level I and II certification program.

The NFPA 1001 is the training standard for career firefighters and requires more than 300 hours of training above and beyond regular PVFD requirements. In total, 24 members of the Parkville Volunteer Fire Department have now completed this certification process. As a result, 60% of the department now meets the standard for career professional firefighters.

The Parkville Volunteer Fire Department is extremely fortunate to have volunteer members who display such commitment and dedication to their continuing education and their invaluable role as firefighters in our community.
