

Springwood Transmission Main Construction

In the next few weeks, IDL Projects Incorporated from Ladysmith will begin construction on the Springwood reservoir transmission main intended to deliver water from the new treatment plant directly to the above ground reservoir in Springwood Park. The first phase of work will be removal of vegetation and trees to allow for the construction of the watermain. Work will continue through this winter and be substantially complete by spring 2018.

Project benefits include increased supply and improved firefighting capabilities, improved water quality and enhanced operation and ability to efficiently meet water demands.

We thank our residents for their patience and cooperation while this important project is underway. Please direct questions to the operations department at 250 248-5412.
