Support Following Recent Storm Event

A warming centre was set up at the Qualicum Beach Civic Centre for residents in the Oceanside area affected by the recent storm event. As power is being restored to many areas and those still without power are making arrangements to support themselves, the need for a warming centre has diminished. For this reason, the warming centre will close at 6pm today.

Should residents affected by the storm need support in the following days, please call 250 937-0448. Your needs will be assessed and support will be arranged for you.

Emergency Management Oceanside expresses appreciation to those in the community who has reached out to help us help others.
